Dan, can you make a note of this non-supply charge that we'll be paying for the Administrator's suite so it does not count against the WPS 1800F budget? I'll have one of my credit card holders pay for it.

Subject: Ready to get on George's calendar!

Good morning --

We spoke by phone last month ago about getting George and a helper into our office for wood touch-up work on a collection of executive furniture. I've attached a collection of photos of the items.

I'm meeting with the nominee for GSA Administrator tomorrow for a final review of the proposed furnishings, and would like to be ready for action if we get approval to move ahead, as expected.

Based on the number of items for touch-up and the possible amount of work involved, we had talked about two men for five to eight hours and a single trip charge.

What do you require, to get us on your schedule, including how many days' advance notice? I need this information today, if you can, so I can present the anticipated schedule.

How quickly could you send us a written proposal with billing information, so I can get our procurement folks ready with credit card payment information?

Finally, although this effort is to furnish our chief executive office, everyone is aware that the furniture is being re-used, much of it salvaged from a warehouse; therefore, to be very clear, museum-quality restoration is not requested. We're just looking for George's usual fill and color touch-up work (and not work that needs to be removed for restoration).

If you have any questions, please email or, the best number to reach me, call on (b) (6)

Thank you!
Robert

I forgot to ask: is the alternate location of the Deputy Administrator at 6120 tied to his anticipated close work with the Agency Reform Project Management Office? If not, why are we highlighting the PMO location in the alternate plan, only, and not both overall plans?

If it is tied, that may be useful to know for talking points, to reference the reason 6120 is being proposed. If there are other reasons behind the location that I should be aware of, when presenting the plan, please let me know. Thanks!

Some changes requested by Cynthia:

- | As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.
- | Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.
- | Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.
- | In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.

Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.
Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

Some changes requested by Cynthia:

- | As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.
- | Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.
- | Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.
- | In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.
- | Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.

Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

Something timely I wanted to discuss today is a request to give a tour for PBS next week.

It's really bad timing with two high-profile, high priority, projects underway. I'm on the hook for restack planning ROB, and completing that is a heavy lift. It's already behind schedule for being diverted to the Administrator's Suite, which merits a lot of time itself.

From the dates they've requested, I'd have to break from priorities mid-day on Wednesday. Can someone else be tasked with giving the tour (e.g. PBS Total Workplace)?

We can talk face-to-face about the other topics.

I totally forgot -- because I've had to wait so long to get an appointment -- that I have a doctor appointment scheduled Monday afternoon. It won't affect presenting to Tony in the morning but I will have to leave by 1:00, and just put in the leave request.

Second thing, I wrote you an email Tuesday morning -- I just saw in the "drafts" file, so it didn't get sent -- to let you know I was working at ROB. I had left some of my survey materials there and needed them.

Last, if you're at ROB today and have a couple minutes, I'd like to chat briefly to ensure you're up to date on work load, and talk about scheduling. Before we get asked again about progress on NCR ROB restack, I really need dedicated focus time -- and keep getting pinged to siphon away from that priority. Also, I've gotten some mixed messages about what I'm supposed to be doing as OAS's Workplace Strategist and hope you can help clarify...

Can we order height-adjustable mechanisms? There are so few throughout the building that it would be a shame to miss this opening to add. Also, the appearance -- that the executive suite gets all adjustable, while the rest get a few, some wings with none at all -- may be a consideration.

1) We're getting ready to place an order for 34 adjustable height bases. They would work on the straight workstations in 6400, but not the curved stations on the dog bones.

2) I'll reach out to Erin.

3) There is currently a 70" mobile screen in 6159 so we may only need to buy. We have mobile carts that will fit a 70" left over from some of the smaller TVs we got from PTT.

Let's have a quick chat to make this as painless as possible.

1. You all can just order the varidesks, right? (Emily, Jack and Clara)
2. For OCIA, it's really a matter of talking with them and also revisiting what cable plan they are on. I understand they don't have the channels they need. So, we need someone to check with them on whether their TV works and whether they have the right cable plan.
3. (Two) New TVs for historic rooms...as you all close on a preliminary approach to furniture, let's conclude quickly on TV sizes.
4. Shive is taking care of the iPad plans and monitors.

What do you all need from us?

The first of last week I was out of the office on leave. Thursday, I went to Franconia warehouse to measure items Lisa had tagged there. I documented repair requirements, and inspected new and additional items. Friday, I measured more potential furniture pieces on site, and surveyed the historic suite in detail to document power locations and other key details. I also reached out to a wood repairman (and am awaiting response). Today, I'm updating the architectural and furniture plans with details from these surveys, and will confirm "fit" of the prospective pieces. Lisa supplied requirements and I'll add a draft layout for the Deputy office, as well. Two or three options will be provided for consideration, along with photos of the furniture pieces we've identified.

Alexandra, there is one pedestal cabinet for every workstation in the A suite. I believe the PBS Commissioner's desk has two because the last the previous Commissioner chose to appropriate one for himself ². Do you know if he is actually using both peds at his station? We do not currently have any extra pedestal cabinets in storage so I would have to pull one from an existing workstation somewhere in the building.

Hi Barry,

We were hoping to get OGC's guidance on the $5,000 furnishing limitation for the GSA Administrator. I copied the language below that I am referring to, which I found in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2017 (Public Law No: 115-31)

(Sec. 710) Prohibits spending more than $5,000 to redecorate or furnish the office of the head of a department or agency during the period in which the official holds office unless Congress is notified in advance.

OAS wanted to learn more about the interpretation of this section for our understanding before a new GSA Administrator is nominated and confirmed. Any light you can shed would be helpful, but here are a few questions we've had so far:

- | What would be included in the limit, for example, does it apply to art, furniture, carpet, lighting, window treatments, etc.?
- | Would the limit apply to the initial furnishing of an office rather than "redecorating" an existing office?
- | Would the limit also apply to furnishings for an adjacent conference room, or the conference area within the Administrator's office?

Any feedback would be much appreciated. Happy to set up a call if you'd like to discuss further,

Shannon Doyle

Good morning Emily,

I am not sure who handles all of the various onboarding matters for the new politicals, but Alan asked me last night about an adjustable desk so he can both stand and sit. While we have some Lucite stands to put on the top of the desk, I believe he would like an adjustable desk. I know the process for GSA FTE who need a reasonable accommodation but I am not sure about in this instance.

1) We're getting ready to place an order for 34 adjustable height bases. They would work on the straight workstations in 6400, but not the curved stations on the dog bones.

2) I'll reach out to Erin.

3) There is currently a 70" mobile screen in 6159 so we may only need to buy. We have mobile carts that will fit a 70" left over from some of the smaller TVs we got from PTT.

- 2) TV for OCIA - sounds like someone needs to have a conversation with them. Not sure what channels they need which they can't access.
- 3) Keep in mind the desire for two TVs for the historic rooms (the main room and the old dining room). Again, probably more conversation to understand what they are envisioning (assuming a TV on a stand?)

1. You all can just order the varidesks, right? (Emily, Jack and Clara)
2. For OCIA, it's really a matter of talking with them and also revisiting what cable plan they are on. I understand they don't have the channels they need. So, we need someone to check with them on whether their TV works and whether they have the right cable plan.
3. (Two) New TVs for historic rooms...as you all close on a preliminary approach to furniture, let's conclude quickly on TV sizes.
4. Shive is taking care of the iPad plans and monitors.

Hi Barry,

We were hoping to get OGC's guidance on the $5,000 furnishing limitation for the GSA Administrator. I copied the language below that I am referring to, which I found in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2017 (Public Law No: 115-31)

(Sec. 710) Prohibits spending more than $5,000 to redecorate or furnish the office of the head of a department or agency during the period in which the official holds office unless Congress is notified in advance.

OAS wanted to learn more about the interpretation of this section for our understanding before a new GSA Administrator is nominated and confirmed. Any light you can shed would be helpful, but here are a few questions we've had so far:

What would be included in the limit, for example, does it apply to art, furniture, carpet, lighting, window treatments, etc.?

Would the limit apply to the initial furnishing of an office rather than "redecorating" an existing office?

Would the limit also apply to furnishings for an adjacent conference room, or the conference area within the Administrator's office?

Any feedback would be much appreciated. Happy to set up a call if you'd like to discuss further,

Shannon Doyle

There was also discussion about purchasing 10 monitors using A-Suite funds, but I have not received additional direction that a PR doc will need to be created. I think GSAIT is currently pricing out compatible items which may be under the Purchase Card threshold level as well.

I believe my colleague Dan Miller has been in emails discussing the monitor request and I am including him here to see if there is an update he has seen from GSAIT.

Dan,

Finalizing draft plans is my current priority. I intend to have something for your review as quickly as possible; certainly no later (among competing priorities) than the end of the week.

The first of last week I was out of the office on leave. Thursday, I went to Franconia warehouse to measure items Lisa had tagged there. I documented repair requirements, and inspected new and additional items. Friday, I measured more potential furniture pieces on site, and surveyed the historic suite in detail to document power locations and other key details. I also reached out to a wood repairman (and am awaiting response). Today, I'm updating the architectural and furniture plans with details from these surveys, and will confirm "fit" of the prospective pieces. Lisa supplied requirements and I'll add a draft layout for the Deputy office, as well. Two or three options will be provided for consideration, along with photos of the furniture pieces we've identified.

Do you have an update on my request for a plan (with pics/furniture) to modify the Administrator's suite - should the next confirmed administrator decide to move back into the historic suite?

Also, will need a plan for a potential Deputy in the room we walked last week.

Thanks.

Here's the back and forth from OGC on the $5k limitation. It appears to apply to any presidential appointee - whether or not confirmed by congress.

Hi Barry,

We were hoping to get OGC's guidance on the $5,000 furnishing limitation for the GSA Administrator. I copied the language below that I am referring to, which I found in the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2017 (Public Law No: 115-31)

(Sec. 710) Prohibits spending more than $5,000 to redecorate or furnish the office of the head of a department or agency during the period in which the official holds office unless Congress is notified in advance.

OAS wanted to learn more about the interpretation of this section for our understanding before a new GSA Administrator is nominated and confirmed. Any light you can shed would be helpful, but here are a few questions we've had so far:

What would be included in the limit, for example, does it apply to art, furniture, carpet, lighting, window treatments, etc.?

Would the limit apply to the initial furnishing of an office rather than "redecorating" an existing office?

Would the limit also apply to furnishings for an adjacent conference room, or the conference area within the Administrator's office?

Any feedback would be much appreciated. Happy to set up a call if you'd like to discuss further,

Subject: Ready to get on George's calendar!

Good morning --

We spoke by phone last month ago about getting George and a helper into our office for wood touch-up work on a collection of executive furniture. I've attached a collection of photos of the items.

I'm meeting with the nominee for GSA Administrator tomorrow for a final review of the proposed furnishings, and would like to be ready for action if we get approval to move ahead, as expected.

Based on the number of items for touch-up and the possible amount of work involved, we had talked about two men for five to eight hours and a single trip charge.

What do you require, to get us on your schedule, including how many days' advance notice? I need this information today, if you can, so I can present the anticipated schedule.

How quickly could you send us a written proposal with billing information, so I can get our procurement folks ready with credit card payment information?

Finally, although this effort is to furnish our chief executive office, everyone is aware that the furniture is being re-used, much of it salvaged from a warehouse; therefore, to be very clear, museum-quality restoration is not requested. We're just looking for George's usual fill and color touch-up work (and not work that needs to be removed for restoration).

If you have any questions, please email or, the best number to reach me, call on (b) (6)

Thank you!
Robert

As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.

Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.

Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.

In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.

Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.

Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

Some changes requested by Cynthia:

As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.

Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.

Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.

In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.

Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.

Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

The historic suite layouts are based on, first, existing power outlets, which both limit and dictate configurations; and second, furniture on-hand (both around 1800 F and tagged for this project at the Franconia warehouse).

Lisa,

I'll work these into a schedule but just so you're aware in advance, we will have to coordinate a handful of preliminary steps -- in addition to deposit payment arrangements -- before the wood furniture repairman can work his magic:

- 1) Arrange for delivery of the furnishings to site.
- 2) Empty the room of other furniture.
- 3) Work with the Administrator's team to schedule the room as closed for a day, for the wood touch-up.
(We'll have to close it another day to lay the carpets after the carpet pads arrive).

As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.

Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.

Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.

In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.

Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.

Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

Thanks :)

Lisa/Robert - Just got off a call with Cynthia/Bob. They are in the final stages of getting approval from the A-suite. We've been asked to line things up (e.g., a contractor to repair furniture), and put together a detailed schedule we can share by Wednesday of next week, and position ourselves to pull the trigger ASAP.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks.

I forgot to ask: is the alternate location of the Deputy Administrator at 6120 tied to his anticipated close work with the Agency Reform Project Management Office? If not, why are we highlighting the PMO location in the alternate plan, only, and not both overall plans?

If it is tied, that may be useful to know for talking points, to reference the reason 6120 is being proposed. If there are other reasons behind the location that I should be aware of, when presenting the plan, please let me know. Thanks!

Attached is a preliminary presentation for furniture configurations proposed for the historic suite.

The historic suite layouts are based on, first, existing power outlets, which both limit and dictate configurations; and second, furniture on-hand (both around 1800 F and tagged for this project at the Franconia warehouse).

Key considerations:

I've just met with OAS leadership and, after completing some amendments to our plans, I'll send you a final list -- a few of the items we have on hold can be released.

Lisa, I'll plan to use the table below to support the TV in the Chief of Staff's office. It's too short for a 70" TV for the Administrator's suite.

We're still looking for something high enough for the larger TV...

Can we order height-adjustable mechanisms? There are so few throughout the building that it would be a shame to miss this opening to add. Also, the appearance -- that the executive suite gets all adjustable, while the rest get a few, some wings with none at all -- may be a consideration.

Marge - Good morning. My team and I are preparing to present some data and recommendations to the A-suite next week, and wanted to include telework participation information for staff assigned to 1800 F and NCR/ROB. Were you successful in pulling the info from ETAMS? Please let me know if you have any questions, and if you can provide the info by Wednesday of this week.

Thanks :)

I apologize for the delayed response.

GSA telework agreements do not include schedules, so do not include the kind of information you are looking for.

I can get information from ETAMS (time and attendance) showing actual telework participation. This data can be broken down by region - so CO and NCR separately - but I don't think we can pull data by particular building code. I have reached out to the folks who can help me pull the ETAMS data, and will confirm my understanding about data by building and get back to you asap.

Lisa,

I thought about it more; because the concept is to demonstrate for agency tours, I'd like to use the product over a conference room door, rather than over a TV monitor in open office. Also, it seems important to place it where the tours actually take place.

Tours I've joined, and given, concentrate on infill Floor 7 -- for the view -- plus 6th floor infill, and usually go through Wing 2, because it's in line with both entrances, rather than Wing 1. Wing 1 is usually visited to demonstrate the historic Administrator's suite, which is why I thought of Wing 1 conference rooms on 6. There are no appropriate historic doors on that path through First Floor Wing 2.

Do you know if there would be objection to installing it over one of the 6th floor historic doors in Wing 2, either Conference 6230 or 6229?

I will go ahead and reserve 1145 today and pre-schedule installation for Monday morning 9/18. I'll also reserve 1147, just in case you already know 6230 will not be acceptable. But if there's no known objection, would you be willing to verify we can use one of those, for the primary demonstration location?

It might look odd to have the film on one door of a 2-door room, and 1147 is one of those where the screen is obscured from the second door. I'll look at it again and touch base with you tomorrow. (Today I'm focused on finishing survey of ROB 7th floor).

If you can furnish crew name(s), I would also like to pre-notify Security to try to ease the building entry. It can help, for folks bringing in work tools.

(If you want to schedule in the morning, the earliest I can reach the building is 8:30 a.m. -- after that, I am open the entire work day until 6).

Good morning Jennifer,

I have some questions for you on how we might go about outfitting the historic Administrator's suite with art, and what costs are typically incurred to do it.

Would you be able to carve out a moment of your time, today or tomorrow, for a brief call to help me understand the process?

(I called your desk phone, which transferred to your cell phone, but it didn't go through even to voice mail).

Best wishes,
Robert

Hi Robert

Glad to know you're making progress!

Let me send an introductory meeting to my installer, Paul Harney. He does really good work and is typically happy to do mock up installations at no charge. Can I trouble you to send me the elevation of the location where this will be installed, along with the dimensions? With that, I'll include with an introduction so that he can have a better scope of the work.

Thanks so much, and will talk soon!

Thanks for your help with this new product and my effort to do an introductory demonstration project here at GSA Headquarters, where we regularly give tours to our Federal client agencies to demonstrate best practices and solutions in workplace design.

We tried to put through an order on the quote Re-District provided, only to have a single Administrative Services manager decline to fund it. Afterward, I did some outreach to IT decision-makers and the GSA Total Workplace team toward getting others here as enthusiastic about featuring it here as I am. So we'll see whether additional voices help build momentum.

Some questions came from that outreach that I hope you can help me answer.

One, does the product come in other colors? Someone said a blue-ish cast, rather what I'd call its 'duranodic brown', would be preferable. Am so sorry, but for now, we can only offer "duranodic brown." ;-)

This is actually part of the reasoning behind the graphic images that can be applied on the opposite side of the glass.

Two, we found it does not obscure images on a screen from an overhead projector. (And, not surprisingly, they noted it does not obscure writing on marker boards). So it only works with flat screen technology. Is there an alternative solution? Yes, just flat screen technology.

Three, is there any possibility DesignTex would install the product on a single conference room door here (photo attached) as a mockup for our market research? This would help me demonstrate the product more effectively and build both interest and demand. We would like to demonstrate it on conference room 6141, used frequently by the Administrator's team. As you can imagine, we have experienced an exorbitant amount of interest in Casper, which in turn has resulted in a plethora of mock up requests. Originally the distribution source for this product, DecorFilms was taking care of this, but because of all of the requests, Designtex has taken on a different position here, to help alleviate the order requests from the mock up requests. That said, Designtex is stocking 5' pieces of the Casper Cloaking Technology layer in our warehouse, where we can offer 1 piece per project for $200 + shipping. If this is something you'd like to pursue further, I can direct you on how to move forward here and help in getting someone to install the mock up, hopefully at no charge. Hope this give you a little more direction, but feel free to press on with questions should you have anything further.

Thanks much!

Karyn

Good morning (b) (6),

We would like to do a demonstration installation of the new Caspar product on one of GSA's Headquarters Building conference rooms.

Working with Lisa Campbell of Workplace Services we've identified room 6141 as an optimum location -- right off the Administrator's suite, one of the most visible locations.

For cost-estimation purposes:

two doors; each has an upper light with approximately 30" x 48" of glazing where we'd like to install Caspar

I've attached photos of the door type (though, that's not the actual conference room; I could take and send photos of that on Tuesday, or you can come out), and a location plan.

At your earliest opportunity please provide: one for the DesignTex material (open market) and the second for ReDistrict's installation.

I spoke last night with Carolyn Ward and Karyn Schmitt at the showroom about our interest, and discussed reaching out to reDistrict since Brian Shaw had been such a great project management communicator on our last Steelcase installation. So, hope to hear from you soon. Thanks a lot.

Robert

Attached is a preliminary presentation for furniture configurations proposed for the historic suite.

The historic suite layouts are based on, first, existing power outlets, which both limit and dictate configurations; and second, furniture on-hand (both around 1800 F and tagged for this project at the Franconia warehouse).

credenza 36-42" high by 66-74"+ long, to support a 70" television on stand OR some kind of block or support to raise a TV above 29" credenza height quantity of two 2-drawer lateral files:

the adjustable-height base:

the glass-front bookcase:

40" long console table to support a 40" television

black leather / vinyl arm chairs (and maybe also the love seat, depending on choices they make):

one credenza -- in case it's the only option for supporting the long TV:

5 carpets:

We can release the conference table, the desks (we found alternatives) and the remaining credenzas back into your open stock.

Lisa,

Can we earmark 2-3 of those Varidesk from the Administrator's suite, when we move them to sit-stand workstations?

When I was surveying ROB yesterday, I came across this home-made set up (photo)...and in chatting with her -- acting Regional Counsel -- she said named others in their group who could really use sit-stand.

Please keep me informed as to the the timeline of the date you will need these items. We can discuss the logistics then. Also,
I will continue to keep an eye out for the addition item on your wishlist.

Thanks again.

Thank you very much for all your help with this project. Monday morning, I'll be presenting the proposed solutions and collected furniture to the Deputy Administrator.

Meanwhile we can update the things we have on hold. In the plan we're proposing, I've been able to use:

quantity of two 2-drawer lateral files:

the adjustable-height base:

the glass-front bookcase:

40" long console table to support a 40" television

black leather / vinyl arm chairs (and maybe also the love seat, depending on choices they make):

one credenza -- in case it's the only option for supporting the long TV:

5 carpets:

We can release the conference table, the desks (we found alternatives) and the remaining credenzas back into your open stock.

We still need to find:

some wood top for adjustable-height table; apx 30x42 or 48 (maybe an old coffee table otherwise damaged?)

credenza 36-42" high by 66-74"+ long, to support a 70" television on stand OR some kind of block or support to raise a TV above 29" credenza height

any historically compatible, high quality desk lamps, table lamps, and floor lamps

I think that's everything, until we hear more next week. Thanks again!

The revised presentation, updated with changes discussed this morning, is attached.

I forgot to ask: is the alternate location of the Deputy Administrator at 6120 tied to his anticipated close work with the Agency Reform Project Management Office? If not, why are we highlighting the PMO location in the alternate plan, only, and not both overall plans?

If it is tied, that may be useful to know for talking points, to reference the reason 6120 is being proposed. If there are other reasons behind the location that I should be aware of, when presenting the plan, please let me know. Thanks!

Some changes requested by Cynthia:

As an alternate, design the Pres. Elect office to accommodate the Deputy Admin and his assistant - similar layout to the one you designed across the hall.

Remove the furniture from the room outside the COS's office. Leave empty.

Provide a new layout/furniture for the room north of the break room. This room will serve as the public waiting room for the Administrator.

In the room for the Administrator's staff, remove the 2 workstations in the bottom right-hand corner, and replace with soft seating for a waiting area for GSA personnel.

Assign the suite (6121-29) to the Agency Reform Program Management Office and show current furniture layout on plan/presentation.

Please provide an updated presentation by COB Thursday and copy Cynthia/Bob.

Robert,

We got this piece in the other day. The finish is slightly lighter than the other wood items you selected. The dimensions are H - 46" L - 60" W - 28".

It has a slight chip in the back and it isn't necessarily traditional. Here are some pictures. I was thinking it might work for the 70" T.V.

Subject: Ready to get on George's calendar!

Good morning --

We spoke by phone last month ago about getting George and a helper into our office for wood touch-up work on a collection of executive furniture. I've attached a collection of photos of the items.

I'm meeting with the nominee for GSA Administrator tomorrow for a final review of the proposed furnishings, and would like to be ready for action if we get approval to move ahead, as expected.

Based on the number of items for touch-up and the possible amount of work involved, we had talked about two men for five to eight hours and a single trip charge.

What do you require, to get us on your schedule, including how many days' advance notice? I need this information today, if you can, so I can present the anticipated schedule.

How quickly could you send us a written proposal with billing information, so I can get our procurement folks ready with credit card payment information?

Finally, although this effort is to furnish our chief executive office, everyone is aware that the furniture is being re-used, much of it salvaged from a warehouse; therefore, to be very clear, museum-quality restoration is not requested. We're just looking for George's usual fill and color touch-up work (and not work that needs to be removed for restoration).

If you have any questions, please email or, the best number to reach me, call on (b) (6)

Thank you!
Robert

Juan,

We finally met the the Administrator-nominee this afternoon. Two topics:

1. She would like to use a sofa and two club chairs (rather than the pieces we proposed from on site here). Do you have any currently available, in good condition? At least the chairs should match.
2. We want schedule pickup of the pieces on hold. What are the parameters we need to know (scheduling, pick up time window, handling limitations, how much time to plan for, and can we pick up the carpets on the same trip)? Lisa is working on scheduling a truck and we'd like to come out Thursday or Friday of this week.

Since we had discussed that the carpets don't move rapidly, we didn't tag any. Please let me know if you need anything more from us, to ensure those are held for the project.

Yesterday we met with the acting Deputy Administrator, who will be polling the senior leadership team about next steps. We should know more in the next week or two, on timing for beginning to move ahead, and will keep you posted.

Even if we get a 'green light' that quickly, there will be a lot to coordinate -- including procurement: carpet pads (must be in place first), wood furniture repairman, etc -- before we'll be ready to move furniture from Franconia. Thanks a lot!

Thank you very much for all your help with this project. Monday morning, I'll be presenting the proposed solutions and collected furniture to the Deputy Administrator.

Meanwhile we can update the things we have on hold. In the plan we're proposing, I've been able to use:

quantity of two 2-drawer lateral files:

the adjustable-height base:

the glass-front bookcase:

40" long console table to support a 40" television

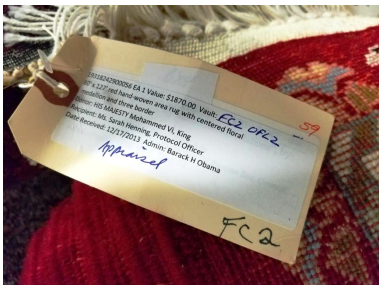

black leather / vinyl arm chairs (and maybe also the love seat, depending on choices they make):

one credenza -- in case it's the only option for supporting the long TV:

5 carpets:

We can release the conference table, the desks (we found alternatives) and the remaining credenzas back into your open stock.

We still need to find:
some wood top for adjustable-height table; apx 30x42 or 48 (maybe an old coffee table otherwise damaged?)

credenza 36-42" high by 66-74"+ long, to support a 70" television on stand OR some kind of block or support to raise a TV above 29" credenza height

Lisa,

Working off the large monitor at home helps move ahead quickly on the NCR ROB space documentation and questions, since I'm working with my spreadsheet, AutoCAD furniture drawings, and SDM space assignment drawings to complete survey documentation.

Today I have finished 4th and 5th floors and part of 6th -- updated (in-progress) sheet attached -- Unless you have an objection I will work again tomorrow from home in order to finish 6th floor and 7th, and will head to ROB Thursday, when I plan to work with Building Management to finish accessing areas I couldn't, before.

When you have an opportunity, I need your Tenant Board contact names? My next step, as we discussed last week, is to begin setting up meetings to review questions and requirements. Occupancies I know of are:

I'm working in Excel and will convert it to a Google doc when it's ready. Meanwhile, here's a preview, attached.

(When I'm done with my own notes, I'll look to ensure mine align with the copied tab of your conference list...to which I began adding some notes before developing the main, detailed, tab).

Erik,

Attached is info about what we're presenting to Tony Costa Monday morning.

Particularly, please check out floor plans on pages 4 and 5, denoting where we'll have a TV and where the computer is likely to be.

See also page 11: we'll have the TV on the piece of furniture on the south wall (bottom end of plan).

Finally, please note page 12. This alternate option will require relocation of a single suspended speaker (as well as relocation of sprinkler heads and AC work above the ceiling).

So, like we discussed, in if there's anything AV or computer-related we need to highlight in Monday's conversation, particularly if you foresee costs associated with what's shown here, please weigh in.
Thank you!

Robert

I've just met with OAS leadership and, after completing some amendments to our plans, I'll send you a final list -- a few of the items we have on hold can be released.

Lisa, I'll plan to use the table below to support the TV in the Chief of Staff's office. It's too short for a 70" TV for the Administrator's suite.

We're still looking for something high enough for the larger TV...

Veridesks will be here October 26. We have extra TVs. The rest of these items, Dave said IT was handling.

Hope this helps.

Erik,

Attached is info about what we're presenting to Tony Costa Monday morning.

Particularly, please check out floor plans on pages 4 and 5, denoting where we'll have a TV and where the computer is likely to be.

See also page 11: we'll have the TV on the piece of furniture on the south wall (bottom end of plan).

Finally, please note page 12. This alternate option will require relocation of a single suspended speaker (as well as relocation of sprinkler heads and AC work above the ceiling).

So, like we discussed, in if there's anything AV or computer-related we need to highlight in Monday's conversation, particularly if you foresee costs associated with what's shown here, please weigh in. Thank you!

Robert

Jack, here are the draft plans for the Administrator's Suite. I will schedule a briefing with you and Emily.

Are you around later today to talk conferences?
